BOLLINGER MOTORS POSTPONES B1 + B2; FORGES AHEAD ON COMMERCIAL

DETROIT, Jan 14, 2022 – Today, all electric Bollinger Motors announced a postponement to its consumer-truck production and delivery, while the company focuses its efforts on commercial business. The news was announced today via video on Bollinger's Instagram.

"We started Bollinger Motors in 2015 with a dream and a desire to make the best trucks possible," said Robert Bollinger, CEO of Bollinger Motors. "We've put countless hours of hard work and passion into making something that makes us proud. However, today, we're postponing the consumer trucks' development and shifting our focus to commercial trucks and fleets."

The move will enable Bollinger Motors to continue to grow and develop technology that will have a major impact in the automotive world's green future.

Bollinger will refund deposits for those who'd previously reserved the electric B1 sport utility truck and the B2 pickup truck.
